Channeled Predictions for Personal Transformation

A 12-Month Guide

Introduction

Hello Blessed Manifestation family! Thank you so much for taking the time to support the blog and the work I do.

I received the idea for this guide through a dream message, sent to me by my spiritual family. I'm so very thankful for them helping me create this for you, and it's something that also serves me; everything I do for Blessed Manifestation also benefits me in some way. This is part of my path and purpose.

This is a channeled guide, made with lots of love and best intentions. My hope for you with this guide is that it will serve as a valuable tool for your own personal transformation journey.

Please note that some things may apply to you directly or indirectly, such as with people in your inner circle. Regardless of what is written on here, always check in with your intuition for the guidance you need.

Join my email list for the weekly tarot and energy forecasts, monthly pick-a-card readings, and tips for energy healing and spiritual protection.

With Love,

K.D.

Numerology

In the dream message Spirit showed me working on the guide, along with some keywords and numbers. I saw the words growth, changes, transformation. I had associated the year 2023 with the number 5 (associated with changes), but I also saw "The Chariot" Tarot card, which is usually associated with the number 7. When I woke up I realized 2023 actually sums up to 7; 2+0+2+3.

Upon further reflection I came to the conclusion that 2023 will be a year of blessed transformations. The number 7 is associated with spiritual wisdom and connection, so for many of us we will be diving much deeper into our spiritual paths; possibly even experiencing profound spiritual awakenings.

I believe Spirit was letting me know not to be afraid of the powerful changes taking place this coming year; that they will be victorious. They will be the answers to our prayers.

If we break the numbers down even further...
Twos represent partnership and balance, and we have two of them in '2023', with a '0' in between. I believe since entering the 2020's the main focus will be on relationships, especially of the romantic kind. We will have opportunities to reset our partnerships; whether to solidify current ones or begin new ones. Love is available for us all if we're open to it.

Numerology

For 2023, the final number we have is a ‘3’ which represents cooperation, community, and celebrations. This could be the year where many of you will finally be getting married, or welcoming a “third” into your life, such as a child.

- If you’ve been struggling with finding a worthy mate, then the “third” time could be the charm; in other words, don’t give up on love.

- If your relationships have been struggling, consider involving a “third party” such as a couples counselor, or maybe to spice things up, a menage a trois.

- Lastly, this could be the year where some couples go into business together. In most Tarot decks, the number 3 is associated with The Empress, so whatever projects you and your partner work on have a wonderful chance of bearing fruit (success).

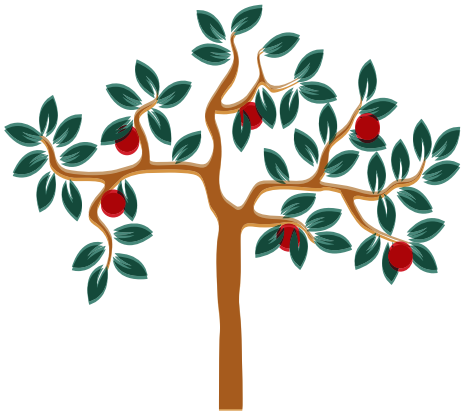

Themes (a brief overview):

2023 Theme: Victorious Transformation

Rapid changes will be taking place internally and externally; many of these changes will be taking place in your relationships (all).

These changes will be fruitful, though at first you might have a challenging time finding the blessings in the circumstances. I'm reminded of that meme of a child crying because Jesus took its stuffed animal away, only for us to see the reason being that he had a much bigger, and better toy for the child.

We have such a hard time letting go of things, so Spirit intervenes in the best ways they can, to help us release what is no longer serving us.

Themes (a brief overview):

January: New Foundations

Whatever you want you can have if you set your intentions to receive these desires. Blessed new energies and opportunities are here for you now; how will you make the most of them? This is the moment to cultivate the lifestyle you want; the relationship, career, wealth, health, and more. You have the power to make it happen; new foundations are being set for us all. I see many of you getting married or forming a more committed partnership.

February: Safe Passage

Whatever troubles or situations you felt trapped by, you will soon be moving away from. You've done all you could; don't exhaust yourself or stress yourself to the point of sickness. Allow yourself to receive the help you need from others, and from Spirit. You are heading towards calmer waters! I see some of you moving into new homes or more supportive spaces.

March: What goes around comes around

Anyone who caused you pain and suffering, who betrayed you in some way—know that Karma knows their names. The Wheel of Fortune turns both ways, and those who have caused you harm will come to regret it for they will taste the same energy they sent you. As well, this is a time to pay off karmic debts—many of you reading this have finally become "debt-free", and things will go in your favor once again! This is a month for magical occurrences but also mischief; be vigilant. Also be extra careful when signing any contracts or entering into agreements. Do your research on all information received.

Themes (a brief overview):

April: Take the lead

If you've been waiting for something to happen but it hasn't happened yet, it's because you need to take charge. For many this applies to your romantic relationships (or lack thereof). If you are single, be the one who makes the first move—this is the action you need to take, to shift the circumstances your way. If you are currently in a relationship, one or both of you are possibly bored with the same routine; spice things up. Don't wait for your partner to take initiative; take the reins and try something new together.

Spirit also has a special message for you all: step outside of your childhood comfort zones and insecurities. Many of the fears you are dealing with now are based on notions you adopted as a child.

May: Plant your seeds

This month is wonderful to solidify the foundation you started back in January. Till your soil and plant your seeds; these seeds will bear new fruit. Whichever of your January desires have yet to manifest, go check on your garden; have you watered and nurtured those seeds? Have you taken out the weeds? Sometimes we get sidetracked; reassess what it is you want and move forward confidently—bold action is required. Ask for help from an expert if you need it. Also take time to check-in with Spirit; they are always down to step in and tend your garden.

June: Here we go again

Someone who hurt you may come back from the past to test your resolve; are you willing to forgive and move on? Or do you need closure? Either way this is the time to review who is of value in your life and what really matters to you, as far as friendships and relationships. As well, some of you may actually want to reconsider reconnecting with this "blast from the past" because they may have valuable insight to share; be discerning but don't shut them out right away. Pay attention to the people coming in and out of your life this month, for some very important insights.

Themes (a brief overview):

July: Fruits of our Labors

Some of the seeds planted back in January and May of this year have borne sweet fruit; it's time to pluck and enjoy. This month there will be returns on investments and rewards for the work you've done. Maybe not everything you wanted will come all at once, but some much needed aid is on the way. These blessings will give you the fortitude to keep going; I see this being support for many business owners to keep their doors open. Don't give up on your dreams. This is also a wonderful month to ask for Divine interventions. If you've been considering a vacation, this is a perfect month for that. Enjoy the peace of this time.

August: Moving on

This month some relationships will reach a much needed conclusion; it may be time for you to release this in order to make space for something more fulfilling. It's OK to walk away, especially when you're both on different paths. At this point in your life you need someone on your level, with shared interests; an ally of sorts. Some of you will be moving homes or relocating for work. This may be the time for some others to go on a spiritual journey or pilgrimage of sorts. If this applies to you, consider taking a solo trip or going on a spiritual retreat.

September: Forgive and Forget?

Some of you may be holding on to regrets from failed relationships, especially if you've recently broken up with someone. You may be having a hard time letting go of the past. Is there anything you can do to gain closure from this wound? Sometimes we won't get the answers we need from the other person, so you may have to find them within yourself. Holding on to the past will only lead to more suffering; it's time to look at the bigger picture. Go back to your inner garden to remember everything you've been working so hard for. For some of you, this past pain is related to your childhood; there are aspects that are still hurting and negatively impacting you now. Now is the time to seek the inner child healing you need, to be able to move on in life. Spirit wants you to consider reconnecting to your little self through play.

Themes (a brief overview):

October: Money strategy

How are you using your money? Many of you have accumulated a lot more than expected; you're in a good place. You may have been diligent about saving and budgeting, but now it's time to consider using some of that money to help it grow. Consider investing some of it, even if you have to take a "risk" of a loss. Spirit is showing me that many of your investments will be returned with interest, so take a percentage and invest in something worthwhile. Talk to an advisor for guidance, if needed.

November: A new approach

If you've been feeling stagnant or "bored" with your jobs or careers (or businesses), consider adopting a new outlook. Maybe a small change is all it will take to get you excited again. Take some time this month to consider what it is you really want, and if there's any way to shape your current jobs/opportunities into something more appealing. You also have amassed enough experience if you're feeling like you want to try for a promotion; move forward confidently.

December: What's next?

So many changes have happened this year; some felt wonderful and others felt terrible, though they all led you to this point. You are wiser and much more stable than at the beginning of the year, especially financially. This month is not one for action and pushing forward, but instead, considering what new dreams you want to manifest. This is a wonderful month of setting new intentions and creating new visions for yourself. Doing this will raise your vibrations, to help you attract more of what you want. Some of you may be headed towards entrepreneurship in the coming year. Take it easy this month and look at how far you've come and all that you've accomplished.

Sneak Peek

Here's a glimpse into the in-depth guide, available now on Amazon:

January 2023:

Affirmation:
"I powerfully co-create the life of my dreams"

Inner:
Internally many of you will be reconsidering everything in your lives; questioning your relationships, jobs, purpose, and more. This is a rite of passage as you grow; wanting to implement changes and break free from those old patterns that no longer serve you. There's energy being set in motion and we will all feel a kind of "restlessness" if you will; motivated to make moves.

You might find that you no longer connect with certain aspects of your lives, or even people. You might not like things in the way you used to, and that's OK. The challenge here is learning to accept yourself where you are right now. Acknowledge what you feel and pay attention to the changes happening within you. This is truly a moment of empowerment for you.

Key Action Steps:

Tap into the fiery and fast-paced energy, to overcome internal blocks and self-sabotage. It's very tempting to oscillate between your old self and new self during this transition, so just remember which actions are bringing you closer to your goals.

Move forward confidently in all areas of your life. Many of you might feel like closing the doors on certain chapters, such as relationships with certain people, maybe even jobs or lifestyle choices. Go with the flow; Spirit is asking you to take charge and lead life where you want it to go, moving forward. The energies of January are supporting swift changes, so if that means quitting on something cold turkey, go for it. Your life is what you make of it.
